MAKE A DIFFERENCE
Master's Degree
Occupational & Environmental Hygiene

The professional MS Program in Occupational and Environmental Hygiene is designed for students who are developing or advancing professional careers in occupational and environmental hygiene. Training includes traditional occupational hygiene and environmental health practice, exposure assessment, environmental monitoring, and risk assessment.

FIND A PROGRAM TO MATCH YOUR NEEDS

Our Programs

Master of Science in Occupational and Environmental Hygiene (MS) FULL-TIME
1.5 years | Onsite
Complete an internship between years one and two to get work experience in industrial hygiene

Master of Science in Occupational and Environmental Hygiene (MS) PART-TIME
Up to 5 years to complete | Hybrid (most classes online)
Flexible format; complete independent project at your place of employment

Certificate in Environmental and Occupational Health
Can be completed in 1-3 year | onsite or online
Can stand alone as professional development, serve as an entry-point for admission to the MSOEH program, or prepare you for the Certification in Industrial Hygiene (CIH) exam

FUNDING GUIDE AVAILABLE

We have a comprehensive funding guide to help applicants identify opportunities for tuition and living support. Visit our page to request a guide.

WWW.EHE.JHU.EDU | HOPKINS_EHE@JHU.EDU

Our graduates go on to lucrative and rewarding careers as industrial hygienists, environmental risk assessors, occupational health specialists, emergency preparedness coordinators, environmental policy analysts, and occupational health and safety managers.

This master's program has allowed me to meet full time professionals in the same field who are equally devoted to learning and being the best in their field.
- Pearl Lee, MS ‘19